Heavy Duty Forklift Operator

Quickload is seeking Heavy Duty Forklift Operators to become members of our yard crew in Prince Rupert, BC. The successful candidate will be responsible for operation of a Hyster 280HD/360 forklift and other equipment, as necessary.

The Heavy Duty Forklift Operator plays a central role throughout the cargo transload/lumber reloading processes. The role helps to facilitate daily operations through receiving lumber and other cargo, following FIFO storage patterns, and picking lumber lifts according to load plans. This role also requires the operator to be able to track and report inventory, as necessary.

Daily responsibilities of role will include but are not limited to:

- Complete equipment checks and perform preventive maintenance on equipment
- Ensure safe operation of any vehicles or other activities while working in the yard
- Receiving/storing/inventorying lumber lifts and maintaining flow of lumber to the export operation.
- Operation of smaller warehouse forklifts, as necessary
- Offload cargo when it received in warehouse and store as directed according to operations plan
- Unloading/load containers; load transport trailers
- Execute against load plans through operating forklifts, hand bombing cargo, blocking and bracing, shrink wrapping or other activity required to complete the plan as directed by the Operations Manager
- Perform maintenance on forklift or other equipment as directed by the Operations Manager

The ideal candidate should preferably possess:

- Excellent safety and attendance record
- Current forklift operator's certification
- Good interpersonal skills
- Satisfactory written and oral communication skills
- Must be willing to perform all job assignments in an effective and timely manner with minimal supervision
- Ability to work in hot, cold, dusty and noisy industrial environment
- Ability to bend, twist, lift, climb, stand throughout the duration of the shift
- Previous heavy equipment/forklift experience considered an asset

An in-house training program will be provided to successful candidates.

Compensation package is competitive and reflects experience.

Application deadline is August 2nd 2018
